

Easton Archery Center
LEED Certification Pending
SDGE Savings By Design

Location:

Chula Vista, CA

Size: 43,800 sq. ft.

Technologies: BioPCM™
M27, M51, M91

Team: Easton Foundation
Bob Easton Architect
Kiewit Corporation

The complex will be an Archery Center used for training, competition, research, and continuing development of the international sport. This project is intended to meet the highest possible standards of LEED Certification, sustainability, and energy efficient design. bioPCM, phase change materials were integrated into both the roof and interior/exterior assemblies, resulting in passive energy strategies, offsetting mechanical energy usage and reduced sizing of systems.

Please contact Sustainability Matters® for more information on how to incorporate more sustainable strategies into your building.

Sustainability Matters® | 2305 India St San Diego, CA 92101 USA | 619.696.1068

www.sustainabilitymatters.us